

Grace Kwok (above, in a sub-penthouse show home) takes an expansive view of the $10 million Amacon is seeking for the penthouse: It's a lot to ask here – but not around the world.

$10 million penthouse tops off harbour tower

5,800-square-foot home, pool unique in careers of builder and broker cap construction

NEW HOMES PROJECT PROFILE

WESTCOAST HOMES

The Amacon development company is topping off its Melville residential tower in Vancouver's Coal Harbour neighbourhood with appropriate punch, a penthouse with a list price of $10 million.

The 43rd-floor penthouse is a four-bedroom, five-patio, six-bath 5,800-square-foot residence with prospects east and west and north and south.

Outside are common-property amenities whose location and proximities are possibly without precedent in a new-home project locally

What do homeowners want in a doorbell?

Seriously, this is the kind of thing that keeps us up at night.

Our idea of an exceptional home is one where hundreds of design details come together perfectly – details you may not notice, but will certainly feel. It's a feeling we pursue passionately at Mosaic. Have a look at Corbeau and see how thoughtful design makes a better home.
